Covid 19 Statement as of 14 August 2020

During this unprecedented crisis, the safety of our colleagues and customers has been, and will continue to be, at the centre of every decision we make.

Because of this, we intended to begin our process of re-opening with due caution, so that we protect the most vulnerable in our community and ensure that Scotland continues on the path to being Covid-19 free.

We continue to follow government guidance whilst assessing any risk to us, our staff and our customers.

We have now opened the hotel for residents and will continue to take bookings for as long as it is safe to do so. We will also continue to run takeaway meals over the weekends, with ordering available directly through our website.

From Saturday 15 August we will be opening our restaurant to non-residents for sit-down meals only. We will be taking bookings and will not be able to offer a walk-in option just yet. We will be opening the restaurants on Saturday nights only for now and will assess the situation on a week by week basis.

We will not yet be opening our pub or beer garden – this is based on a number of factors but as with all of our decisions during this time it is made with your safety, and that of our staff, at the forefront of our minds.

We will continue to update you as the situation progresses.

Thank you, stay safe and we hope to welcome you soon.
